PURPOSE

The mission of the Boy Scouts of America is to prepare young people to make ethical and moral choices over their lifetimes by instilling in them the values of the Scout Oath and Law. This program is provided directly to the youth through local units supported by Councils.

The purpose of Lord Baden-Powell University of Scouting (LBPU) is to provide introductory, supplemental, and advanced training for ALL functions related to commissioner service, membership, finance, and program for Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Venturing, Varsity, and Sea Scouting. Much of the specialization provided only at LBPU is the strength found in our offering this innovative curriculum. LBPU is there to augment the training programs existing within the local councils.

Some courses meet training requirements for various awards, including Commissioner Arrowhead, Scouter's Key, and Doctorate of Commissioner Science. Courses offered address National, Regional, and Area programs of emphasis, local council concerns, and pertinent topics. Certain courses are offered on a rotational basis.

Since 1990, LBPU has awarded over 1,950 non-accredited degrees, including more than 190 Doctoral Degrees and 99 Fellows of Scouting.

LETTER FROM THE DEAN

“Be The Change”

As we wind down from the University weekend, my thoughts turn to what a great weekend it turned out to be. The weather was great, the food was excellent, and the entertainment and you, the participants, had some very nice comments about the weekend as well. As I said in my closing comments, we had some firsts for the University. The National BSA Commissioner Tico Perez brought the latest news from the National BSA Office. His opening comments and the course that he presented were for me a dream come true. I could not say enough in the way of thanks to him.

As the Dean of the University I want to thank all of my staff and those that stepped up to help out when needed. To the instructors, what a great job you did. Comments were very positive across the board. What makes this University unique are the view points of seven councils with their teams of experts that are willing to share their successes on how to get Scouting's message to others. Whether you were teaching a skill, how to teach a skill, bringing new information, or how to solve a problem these are important to others that attend the University.

With the 100th Anniversary of Scouting in the United States upon us, the steering committee of the university and I are pleased to announce that this year the National BSA President, John Gottschalk, will be the guest of the University for 2010. Other fantastic news for 2010 is that Chicago Area Council has joined the steering committee. With their unique view of Scouting in a large urban setting, we are truly a well rounded University.

As a personal favor to me I ask all of you to take back to your home council what you have learned at the University and apply it to teaching the youth and adults that you come in contact with. This is a key point that I cannot stress enough. Pass on what the University is all about to the Scouters that you know so that they, too, benefit from what we as a University have to offer to them. Stay in touch with those that you have made friends with throughout the year.
